SECTION 1: BACKGROUND

1. Objectives

The term 'Advisory Committee' is used in this Policy to refer to a committee or other group (eg Reference Group) established by Council which does not have delegated authority to determine matters but provides recommendations or guidance to Council from time to time.

Advisory Committees provide advice to Council concerning strategic or policy issues, enhance communication between Council and the community and complement other elements of community engagement.

2. Policy Statement

The Advisory Committee Policy (the Policy) sets out explicit standards of behaviour to help Advisory Committee Members perform their duties and functions as Advisory Committee Members to the requisite level.

3. Purpose

The purpose of the Policy is to:

- outline Council's expectations of a Councillor who is appointed to, or otherwise becomes a member of, one (or more) of Council's Advisory Committees;
- provide guidance to Council staff that are tasked with the responsibility of support officer/convener; for one (or more) of Council's Advisory Committees; and
- provide guidance to committee members appointed to an Advisory Committee.

By complying with the Policy, it is expected that Councillors, Council staff and appointed members will fulfil their role as members of Advisory Committees with the necessary levels of courtesy and respect, and avoid any conflict with their role.

4. Scope

The Policy applies to all Councillors and committee members who are appointed to an Advisory Committee and Council staff who are tasked with the responsibility of support officer/convener.

5. Benefits of an Advisory Committee

Council can use Advisory Committees to seek expert advice to inform decision-making, providing an effective mechanism to involve stakeholders with the acquired skills and expertise to complement the role of Council in planning and policy-making. There is also a potential to test engagement techniques and audiences to improve community engagement outcomes for an issue.

5.1 When to use an Advisory Committee

- When a statutory requirement would produce a better outcome with the involvement of an Advisory Committee.
- To support implementation of a council strategy/plan.
- When a collaborative approach with service providers and stakeholder organisation is desirable or required.
- When a specific issue would benefit from a high level of community input and has been assessed as a high risk initiative.

- If an issue is substantial and the resourcing required for an Advisory Committee justifies the benefits and outcomes achieved.
- If specific or expert input is required and this can be sourced from key stakeholders in the Shire.
- Where collaboration with stakeholders is desirable to enhance the participation of the broader community in an issue.
- When increased community awareness of an issue is required.

5.2 When not to use an Advisory Committee

- When specific statutory processes exclude input from such a group.
- When similar groups already exist for the same (or similar) issue and there is a risk of the same community members belonging to an Advisory Committee.
- When alternate forms of collaboration are identified as being more effective.
- When informing, consulting and involving are more effective methods of engagement for the issue and the level of risk is defined as low or medium.

6. Initiating an Advisory Committee

If the level of engagement is determined to be “Collaborate” in accordance with the level of participation adopted from the IAP2 Spectrum of Public Participation, then Council may develop an Advisory Committee. If this is the case, the following process will proceed.

7. Membership of Advisory Committees

The membership may comprise of:

- Councillor Representative – involvement of Councillors will depend upon needs and interests for each specific issue or activity. Councillors’ involvement may form part of the Councillor statutory appointments each year;
- Independent members – to be defined at the time of establishing the committee with a clearly defined term of membership.

Members will contribute specialist knowledge and expertise to the group, reflecting on and presenting community issues, rather than focusing on personal concerns or individual issues.

8. Responsibilities of the Advisory Committee

Advisory Committees are established to provide input and recommendations to Council, however they are not independent decision making bodies for Council.

The responsibilities of each Advisory Committee will be outlined in the Advisory Committee Terms of Reference (ToR) to be endorsed by Council.

9. Establishment of Advisory Committees

Advisory Committees are established by Council to discuss and consider matters within their ToR and make recommendations to Council in respect of those matters.

The ToR of an Advisory Committee are adopted by Council and address matters such as:

- its composition, including whether its members will be Councillors, Council staff, independent members or a combination;
- the types of matters which it is established, and is empowered, to consider;
- the frequency, timing and proceedings of meetings; and
- the frequency with which it reports to Council.

An Advisory Committee can be established indefinitely, or for a specified term.

10. Process for Membership of Advisory Committees

Public Notice calling for Expressions of Interest of Membership will occur through the use of a nomination form and submitted by the published due date. The process will follow the steps outlined in the Advisory Committee ToR. Nominees need to apply addressing the Selection Criteria.

SECTION 2: ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBERS ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

11. Role of Councillors and committee members on Advisory Committees

Councillors and committee members are appointed to Advisory Committees to represent Council's and the community's interests in the matters within the scope of the Advisory Committee's Term of Reference.

The position of a Councillor who is appointed to an Advisory Committee is no different to that of any other member of the Advisory Committee. As such:

- all members of an Advisory Committee will undertake induction and orientation training;
- all members of an Advisory Committee are to be provided with the opportunity to contribute to its proceedings; and
- no one member of the Advisory Committee takes precedence over the other members (with the exception of the Chair, when necessary).

Councillors appointed to Advisory Committees cannot exercise any power independently of other members and must not seek to direct other members in their contributions to, or voting on, matters before the Advisory Committee.

Councillors appointed to Advisory Committees are expected to treat all other members of Advisory Committees with courtesy and respect.

A Councillor, and committee member who is appointed to an Advisory Committee is expected to:

- treat all Council staff appointed to provide administrative support with courtesy and respect; and
- refrain from directing, or attempting to direct, Council staff appointed to provide administrative support.

A Councillor who is appointed to an Advisory Committee may request information from Council staff that is relevant to their functions as a member of the Advisory Committee, provided that such requests are made in accordance with the Councillor and Staff Interaction Policy.

12. Council Staff and Resources

Council resources will generally be assigned to Advisory Committees to assist them in their functions, including:

- Council staff to provide administrative support;
- meeting rooms;
- stationery; and
- equipment and facilities.

All Council resources assigned to an Advisory Committee are to be used solely for purposes associated with the Advisory Committee's functions.

13. Expectations, roles and Organisers

Council's Advisory Committee meetings will usually be organised by Council staff. To maximise the meeting's success, good planning is essential and this should include:

- Ensuring all key stakeholders are invited.
- Clearly outlining the meeting's purpose including whether it is to inform, consult, or collaborate.
- Arranging a suitable venue and meeting set-up.
- Determining whether a trained or experienced facilitator is required, especially if a meeting is likely to be contentious.
- Ensuring an Agenda is prepared and made available to participants to inform them about what will be discussed.
- Ensuring meeting notes or minutes are taken and ensuring participants are informed about what will happen next.
- Assisting and supporting the meeting chairperson.

14. Chairperson

The meeting chairperson may also be referred to as the meeting facilitator.

The chairperson's role includes:

- Being fair and ensuring everyone has the opportunity to participate and no-one dominates.
- Keeping the meeting on track and on time.
- Maintaining order by ensuring that the conduct obligations are followed.
- Determining what will happen if the meeting does not run smoothly or in keeping within the conduct obligations.

15. Participants

People participating in Advisory Committee meetings should:

- Turn up on time.
- Bring a positive attitude.
- Have read the material provided and be ready to discuss.
- Understand that the goal is not necessarily to agree but to gain a deeper understanding of an issue through discussion. Be fair and respectful at all times.
- Councillors, Council staff and community members who are not active members or facilitators may attend and observe Advisory Committee meetings.
 - Observers to meetings should be silent and are not permitted to interject or disrupt meetings.
 - Observers to meetings may be asked to leave for matters that are confidential.

16. Process of Advisory Committees in Making Recommendations

Advisory Committees fulfil a purely advisory function and cannot finally determine matters before them for discussion and consideration.

Where a matter is before an Advisory Committee for discussion and consideration, the following process will be followed:

- the Advisory Committee will reach a decision on each matter before it for consideration, which will be evidenced by a resolution supported by a majority of the members and may form a recommendation to Council;
- if a matter considered by the Advisory Committee requires a decision of Council to be actioned, a report will be prepared by a member of Council staff setting out the Advisory Committee's recommendation about the matter; and
- Council will consider a report, including the Advisory Committee's recommendation, and make a final and binding decision in respect of the matter.

A committee does not have an operational role and may not direct Council staff in the performance of their duties. Where a committee wishes to make recommendations to Council, a consensus of all members present is required.

In the absence of such consensus, and provided there is a quorum of at least half of the members (excluding Council staff) present at the meeting, the recommendation should be put to a vote with the majority recommendation being endorsed as the committee's recommendation.

Council staff cannot take part in the vote. In the event of a tie the recommendation cannot progress until a consensus is reached or majority vote met.

All recommendations are to be formally minuted.

Acting on recommendations:

- The support officer/convener will refer the committee's recommendation to the responsible internal department for consideration and action.
- Responsible department undertakes background research and prepares material to inform any required Briefing and/or Report back to Council (or other means advised by the relevant Director).
- Responsible department lists items and reports back to support officer/convener (closing the feedback loop).

A Councillor who is appointed as a member of an Advisory Committee can provide Council with additional insight into the rationale of the Advisory Committee in making its recommendation.

17. Reporting Requirement

In accordance with Council's statutory reporting, a periodic report will be submitted to Council about the work of an Advisory Committee in relation to the goals, objectives and progress.

Any working groups / sub-committee formed by the Advisory Committee should report their findings to the Advisory Committee meeting. This will form part of the Minutes presented to Council for noting.

Minutes from each Advisory Committee meeting are tabled at the next Council Meeting for noting by Council and recorded in the Minutes.

18. Informal Meetings of Councillors and Conflicts of Interest

An Informal Meeting of Councillors is defined in Item 20 of Council's Governance Rule - Meeting Procedures and includes an Advisory Committee meeting with at least one Councillor present.

Conflicts of interest are required to be disclosed by Councillors, Council staff members and Advisory Committee members attending an Advisory Committee meeting. The Governance Rule requires the Chief Executive Officer to ensure that a summary of the matters discussed at the meeting is tabled at the next convenient Council Meeting and recorded in the minutes of that Council Meeting.

An Informal Meeting of Councillors means a meeting that is scheduled or planned for the purpose of discussing the business of Council or briefing Councillors, is attended by at least one member of Council staff, and is not a Council Meeting, delegated committee meeting or community asset committee meeting. It does not include a meeting of a club, association, peak body, political party or other organisation.

An Informal Meeting of Councillors Record must be completed and sent to Council's Governance team as soon as possible at the completion of the meeting for inclusion in the Agenda for the next Council Meeting.

The Informal Meeting of Councillors Record must outline:

- the names of all Advisory Committee members and Council staff attending;
- the matters considered;
- any conflict of interest disclosures made by a Committee member or Council staff member; and
- whether any Advisory Committee member or Council staff member who has disclosed a conflict of interest leaves the meeting.

We acknowledge the human rights that are protected under the Victorian Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 and undertake to exercise our duties in a manner that is compatible with the rights set out in the Charter.

The Gender Equality Act 2020 commenced on 31 March 2021 and seeks to improve workplace gender equality in the Victorian public sector, universities and local councils.

Local Councils are required to promote gender equality in policies, programs and services that impact the public and will actively consider how community members from various gender identities, ages, abilities, cultural identities, sexual orientation, religions, locations and social economic backgrounds might access policies, programs or services differently and if there are any barriers which may hinder these groups from accessing these policies, programs or services.

We acknowledge this undertaking extends to all our relationships as an Advisory Committee Member, including with other Advisory Committee members, Councillors and Council employees, as well as any member of the public with whom we may have contact, and any decisions we participate in as a Councillor.

We will avoid any action that could lead Council staff or members of the public to believe that we are seeking preferential treatment.

28. Protocols

All Advisory Committee members will sign the Advisory Committee Members Conduct declaration (Attachment A).

SECTION 3: CONDUCT OBLIGATIONS

29. Conduct of Advisory Committee Members

Nillumbik Shire Council holds a range of meetings throughout the year including, advisory committee meetings, planning consultation meetings, public workshops and various information evenings. These meetings are an important way for Council to engage with the community, share information, receive feedback, consult on new proposals, mediate disputes, and collectively solve problems.

Effective Advisory Committee meetings need to be well conducted so that all participants get the opportunity to express their views and listen to the views of others in a respectful way. Meetings conducted like this are vital for transparent and democratic government and ultimately lead to better and more inclusive decision making.

By their very nature, Advisory Committee meetings will include differing views and not everyone will agree with everything being discussed. If meetings are not managed well this can lead to raised emotions, heated debate and potential or actual conflict. If this happens the benefits of open participation can be lost because some people do not get a chance to have a say, or may feel intimidated or even threatened.

To ensure Nillumbik Shire Council's Advisory Committee meetings operate fairly and transparently, and are as effective as possible, the following conduct obligations and good governance principles apply. The obligations and principles are consistent with and compliment the Code of Conduct contained within Council's Governance Rule - Meeting Procedure.

Councils Advisory Committee conduct obligations centre on Respect, Accountability and Integrity. In addition to all legislative requirements and any specific directions or guidance provided by Council, you should recognise the requirements of this Policy as the standards to be adopted in the performance of your role.

Where an Advisory Committee meeting becomes uncooperative, the chairperson may take the following steps:

- If a participant is acting in an uncooperative manner, the chairperson will state the problem and remind the person of the conduct obligations.
- Provide sufficient warning about the need for certain behaviour to stop.
- If a warning does not work, the chairperson may adjourn the meeting while the person is asked to leave. If a person refuses to leave the meeting appropriate authorities may be called.
- Where a meeting is severely disrupted or is deemed to be potentially unsafe, the chairperson will close the meeting.

In attending meetings run by Council, participants agree to accept and abide by the following:

- Mobile phones and other personal devices must be turned off or switched to silent during the course of the meeting.
- Only speak when acknowledged and given the floor by the chairperson.
- Stay within the allotted time provided to speak.

- Do not use derogatory, defamatory, threatening, or offensive remarks about individuals or groups/bodies.
- Do not use gestures or other means to intentionally disturb the order and decorum of the meeting.
- Observe instructions from the chairperson at all times.

Council acknowledges that this Policy anticipates a more formal meeting structure. Council encourages Advisory Committee meetings and consultations that use a variety of methods to gain community input. While the structure and format of meetings will differ, the same principles of conduct apply.

SECTION 4: DISPUTE RESOLUTION

34. Grievance Procedures

All Advisory Committee Members have the right to fair and equitable treatment of grievances and complaints in a timely and professional manner. It is Council's aim to resolve disputes amicably through conciliation and negotiation.

The Equal Opportunity, Anti-Discrimination, Bullying and Harassment Policy can be found in your Induction Pack. If you have any concerns, please speak to Council Officer or supporting team for your Advisory Committee.
